

PARK(ing) Day is a one-day, global event where artists, activists, and citizens collaborate to temporarily transform metered parking spots into "PARK(ing)" spaces: temporary public parks. In 2007, Austin Green Art created Austin's first temporary park and, this year, has brought together a group of creative individuals and organizations to keep our Park(ing) Day growing.

Bike Trail
REI Austin Downtown

The PARK(ing) Day space in front of REI Austin's downtown store features a bike trail, complete with a stationary bike and REI bike swag. Bring your bike and have the on-site bike technician give it a quick tune up.
